

Dear Neighbor,

Thousands of Americans fall victim to fraud every year, often through telephone or email scams that are simply too good to be true. Unfortunately, fraudsters are becoming more creative in developing scams specifically targeted towards the senior population.

That is why my office is sponsoring a program to help seniors protect themselves.

The Better Business Bureau has important tips on how to identify fraud and what to do if you fall victim to a scam. AT&T also has information on how to stay safe online and how to adapt to the ever-changing world of technology, specifically in dealing with computers, smart phones, and tablets.

I invite you to attend this informative program to learn more about protecting yourself from fraud. I look forward to seeing you.
